Attractive card options

Efficient expense management – reduced administration

Central billing and statements allow you to precisely control expenses and make reliable analyses of your cost structure. Your employees have the convenience of using the Corporate Card to pay for company purchases and expenses. When travelling abroad, there is no longer a need to buy foreign currency in advance and later change it back. You receive a comprehensive monthly bill clearly showing all the transactions made with the card.

Flexible billing and statement options

Collective statement*: centralised statement with a balance overview for all cards plus an information statement showing the individual transactions for internal expense accounting purposes.

Individual statement*: separate monthly statement sent directly to the cardholder and/or copied to the company.

Company travel card*

Designate the card number of a Corporate Card for use by the travel office through which you regularly book employee business trips. The costs incurred for flight tickets and hotel arrangements, etc. will then be shown on the statement for this credit card.

Company shopping card*

When placing orders for office materials, etc., your purchasing department can simply quote the card number to the supplier – that way you always have an up-to-date and detailed overview of all company purchases.

* Travel and shopping cards are non-personal cards, i.e. they are not issued in the name of a given cardholder. These are single-purpose cards and can only be used for transactions made via the Internet or by phone. Compliance with the obligation to take due care (Art. 3 of the General Terms and Conditions) is therefore particularly important.
